Chairman's Message

Dear Parents,
We can see lot of schools & colleges mushrooming around. Do we really get educated in schools and colleges? Let's get some myths out of the way. Generally, there is a consensus that some people do but most don't. Don't get me wrong. We receive a lot of information in schools & colleges. We do need information to be educated, but we also need to know the true meaning of education. Intellectual education influences the head, but value - based education influences the heart. In fact education that does not train the heart can be dangerous. If we want to build character in our office, home and society, we must achieve a minimum level of moral and ethical literacy. Education that builds character such as honesty, compassion, courage, persistence and responsibility - is absolutely essential. I believe we must need to compete for knowledge and wisdom and not for grades. Knowledge is piling up facts, wisdom is simplifying it.
I look forward to meet and share with you and your child his or her learning journey.

About Directors

Mr. R.N Semwal is a qualified engineer and trained management graduate. Mrs.Suman Semwal is an expert in child psychology. Their expert team have been actively involved in shaping the career of aspirants for NDA, IIT-JEE, NEET, Engineering, National Olympiad, UPSC for the last 20 years and are implementing the same in this school. They have vast experience of competitive examination preparation and guidance, this will help our school students to face the up-coming challenges and achieve their future goals.

Principal's Message

Greetings from the Principal Desk!

Our school is dedicated to preparing students intellectually and emotionally for real-world challenges while fostering a love for learning and excellence.

Our exceptional teachers play a vital role in guiding each student to fulfill their educational purpose. We provide a supportive environment that encourages students to explore their talents and reach their full potential.

We believe education extends beyond academics, which is why our curriculum includes character development, community service, and extracurricular activities. These programs help students cultivate leadership skills, creativity, and social responsibility.

We value your partnership in your child's education and look forward to building a brighter future together.

Our Faculty

Boarding School

Students are living in boarding houses. As they are away from their parents, we continuously remain in touch with their parents and students so that they don't feel lonely. Every student's care and health is important to us. Gyan Einstein School maintains a healthy environment and promotes a positive atmosphere in the hostel so that the students can learn and explore their skills.
